Reflections and Reverberations from the ELCA's Young Adult Climate Action Summit

We are lucky to hear from some of the attendees of this October's gathering where young adults learned about the ELCA's social teachings on care for creation and considered their most faithful next steps fueled by our theologies and the contexts of their communities. Come help imagine and hear how we might continue to build momentum in support of climate action within our denomination.

Break out room time offered, but not required!

Their most recent endeavor is to ensure data is collected in 2024 across ELCA congregations to assess our GHG emissions and monitor progress toward our emission goals.

How does this fit with what the ELCA is doing?
