"Our Kairos Moment: A Study Guide on Earth's Climate Crisis."
During Part Three, our theme is "The Future of Farming." We will think about our connection to our food and how sustainability can be a guiding principle in our food and agriculture. We will address how climate change manifests generationally, with fewer and older farmers, but also climate anxiety in younger generations.

No previous work required, but you can see our last two sessions and action items HERE. We will have non-recorded break-out sessions interspersed throughout the hour, so please be ready to talk!

As we witness the fires raging through Los Angeles, we grieve the destruction of human lives, homes and creation. We know that climate change will continue to impact the frequency and intensity of natural disasters and that disaster response is inextricable from creation care.

As we look for "ways to deliver God to people," we lift up the continuous work of Lutheran Disaster Response. They have just released their Winter and Spring Training Catalog to help folks involved at all levels to engage in their work.
